APPROVE AUDIT OF NEW PLANT

Industrial Committee Given Report of Accountants on Steel Factory

FINANCIAL POSITION OKAY

Chamber of Commerce Will Act To Take Title to Power Mfg. Co. Building

An important step toward completing arrangements for the factory of the Defiance Power & Steel Co. was taken yesterday afternoon when a special industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce approved an audit of the company's records and accounts and placed its stamp of approval on the concerns financial position.

This step was in compliance with terms of the contract on which successful negotiations to locate the Defiance plant in Marion were carried on by the industrial committee of the Chamber.

In a provision of the contract related to the audit, the Chamber reserved the right to withdraw from the contract if representations made by company officials to be changed during the course of negotiations were found by an audit to be incorrect.

The audit was made jointly by Albert L. Swearingin, member of the Cleveland firm of Swearingin & Swearingin, certified public accountants, and E. W. Wood, of Marion, a certified public accountant retained by the Chamber.

The accountants analyzed the company's financial history, outlined its present status and answered questions of the 20 committee members called into the meeting by J. C. Woods, industrial committee chairman.

Those present included the individuals and business concerns that contributed to the bulk of the funds in the Chamber's drive for $85,000 to provide a factory building and site for the Defiance concern.

After the accountants' reports had been analyzed and discussed, the group voted unanimously to recommend approval of the company's position and urge that the Chamber take title to the Power Manufacturing Co. building for use by the Defiance company and deny the way for moving the factory to Marion.

Mr. Lewis, president of the Chamber, was authorized to appoint three trustees to hold title to the factory building until the Defiance company pays out $700,000 in payrolls in Marion.

The Chamber's contract with the company provides the factory building and site are to be furnished free to the company only if the $700,000 payroll total is reached within three and one-half years.

The meeting concluded the work of the industrial committee of the Chamber on the Defiance plant negotiations. The committee made up of business and technical men appointed by Chairman Woods to help in the negotiations because of their particular experience and knowledge of pressed steel factory operations has been working since June 13 when a fire destroyed the Defiance concern's huge factory building.

Harold Hadley, vice president of the Defiance company, was in Marion yesterday to continue preparations to place a contract three weeks from now for an office building on the company's new site here. Painters are scheduled to start work on the plant the middle of next week.

Landon Reaches Chicago; Roosevelt Talks In Iowa

Kansan Out To Get 88 Electoral Votes of Lake States; President Says People Rule U. S.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—President Roosevelt opened his western campaign here today with a declaration that he was not worried so long as the future conduct of the nation remained in the hands of the people.

Addressing a welcoming crowd of Iowans from the rear platform of his campaign special, the chief executive asserted there was a great moral lesson pointing the direction which our country in all needs go.

In an oration given by Mr. Sheehy at funeral services several months ago for Sen. Murphy of Dubuque, Ia., who was killed in an automobile accident.

He quoted at length from that tribute which included a statement that drastic measures were necessary to meet social problems when Murphy took office and while some of those measures may have been opposed by the senator, could stand up to and do nothing.

Mr. Sheehy, who was a friend of his, the President said, he wanted to read Mr. Sheehy's tribute instead of talking politics because, these words, while not political are concerned.

REV. RYAN RIPS COUGHLIN PLAN

Says Radio Priests Money Views Are 90 Per Cent Wrong, Lauds Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Challenging the monetary views of Mr. Charles E. Coughlin as 90 per cent wrong, the Right Rev. John A. Ryan, of Catholic university was in the thick of the campaign today, battling for the reelection of President Roosevelt.

Mr. Ryan, in a broadcast address under the auspices of the Democratic national committee, said last night.

The charge of communism directed at President Roosevelt in the latest fascist most cruel on just yesterday, Mr. Ryan said, was a lie.

President in all the years of American history.

Coughlin listens in at Pittsburgh. Mr. Coughlin denied a scheduled address to listen in on Mr. Ryan's statement that the radio priests' monetary theories and proposals find no support in the encyclopedia of Pope Pius XI.

Pope Leo XIII in Pope Pius XI's obituary of a dress shop Sept. 20 admitted that his attorney said she was Mary Jeanette Garvin of Lima.

Attorney Arnold Harrie said the girl declared her identity during a long talk in her cell in the county jail.

He said her only motive for giving the other name was to protect her family.

He said her mother, Mrs. Anne Garvin, was understood to be in the room here. Harrie said the young woman told him her brother is a young Lima attorney (Robert Garvin).

Harrie said he believed that if the girl was found to have no previous record she might be turned over to her mother. A hearing has been set for Nov. 6 pending word from officials of a Delaware, O., girl school who are searching for two escaped inmates. Harrie said he believed the hearing date would be advanced.

PEACE MOVES SATISFY ENVOY

EDEN CONFERS WITH BLUM

Fireworks Likely As Result of Moscow's Threat To Side With Madrid

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A Russian explanation of satisfaction came today from the Soviet ambassador to 27 nations states presiding the Russian continental crisis created by Moscow and Madrid charges of fascist assistance to Spain in its struggle.

I am satisfied with the present stage of the negotiations, Kagan, Soviet representative on the European non-intervention committee, emerging from the conference room when the group adjourned for lunch.

It was learned the Soviet Italian British French Belgian and German delegates had spoken.

Agree To Use All Means In Spain, Where British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, pressed on a dash back home from an interrupted holiday, informed sources said Premier Leon Blum of France and Eden had agreed to exert every effort to prevent collapse of the non-intervention accord.

Despite his statement Kagan appeared calm following the first two and one-half hour session. It appeared in fact that the only concrete accomplishment had been that the Soviet delegates did not walk out.

Kagan said he would return for the later session.

It was understood the first hours of the conversations were devoted largely to laying a groundwork for subsequent procedure, the delegations—beginning with the British—laying their cards on the table.

Thus the stage was set for possible verbal fireworks, later on.

Lord Plymouth as chairman and spokesman for the peace-making British might have a clash with observers believed if the meeting was turned into a debating ground for rival fascist and Communist forces of government.

To Avert War Before the delegation was the problem of determining a method to prevent European Communist and fascist camps from stepping openly into the Spanish civil war—and possibly provoking continental conflict.

The committee agenda included two specific questions.

1. A Russian proposal to send an investigating commission into Portugal, awarded gateway for alleged military assistance to fascist insurgents seeking to overthrow the Madrid government.

2. Formal charges from Madrid backed up by an almost identical Soviet allegation that Portugal, Italy and Germany are violating the French sponsored neutrality agreement.

(Indications Portugal would not allow an investigating group with in her borders were published in the newspaper Diario de Noticias at Lisbon.)

(Portugal the newspaper said, would not allow "any form of foreign control or supervision.")

London quarters expressed belief British persuasion could prevent collapse of the neutrality agreement, the Russian representative said, while the committee and checkmate a Soviet warning to send relief forces to help Madrid turn back the advancing insurgents.

Italian Official Wounded in France

MEXICO, Oct. 9.—Antonio Barrios, attaché of the Italian consulate here, was gravely wounded in a surprise attack by unidentified motorists today in the region already troubled by agitation against Communist plans for demonstrations over the week-end.

The news government rushed police reinforcements into Alacran, Loreto in the shooting threatened to serve as a prelude to bloody clashes between Communists and fascists.

French Communists openly defied government efforts to restrict their meetings in historic Alsace-Lorraine.

Amid threats of virtual civil war at the border provinces, the Communist party declared it was proceeding with plans to hold widespread demonstrations there.

Plans to open strife were current.

KIRBY HEARING SET FOR OCT. 27

Civil Service Commission Arranges To Hear Appeal of Pension Official

DISMISSED BY BOARD HERE

No Time Fixed for Appeal of W. E. Mathiot Also Removed from Office

For the second time in two months the state civil service commission today set a hearing date for the appeal of James L. Kirby from his dismissal as old age pension administrator for Marion county.

The Associated Press reported from Columbus. The hearing will be conducted at 10 a. m. Oct. 27 in the Marion county court house.

Kirby was dismissed from his post last week by action of the Marion county board of directors, who were charged with the aged on charges of discreditable treatment of the public insubordination and inefficiency. The action was taken at a meeting of the board called by Henry J. Berardin, state director of the division of aid for the aged and state officials attended.

The same charges were made against Kirby in August when he was dismissed by Mrs. Margaret Allman, state welfare director. He appealed from that dismissal and the state commission set a hearing date but ruling by Attorney General John W. Bricker last month following a decision of the Franklin county court of common pleas regarding authority over county pension employees ruled that only county boards of aid for the aged had the power of dismissal, county pension officials. Mr. Kirby then returned to office.

Mr. Kirby said at the time of his latest dismissal that the county board had apparently revised its opinion of him completely and he blamed politics for the change.

Members of the county board explained recently that their dismissal of Mr. Kirby was necessary cooperation with the state.

Walter E. Mathiot, investigator in the Marion county pension office who was suspended by Mrs. Allman at the same time Mr. Kirby was dismissed also was dismissed by the county board last week and has been fixed for a hearing date.

Mr. Mathiot attributed his dismissal by the county board to a political move. He said he was the only Republican in the pension office.

The members of the county board are Mrs. John T. McNamara, Fred Hayner, Mrs. John Winch, Dr. C. Altmaier and Dr. E. L. Brady. Dr. Brady was absent at the meeting of the board when the dismissals were decided.

CARE OF TRANSIENTS BEFORE ARMY BOARD

Program Considered at Meeting of Officials in Headquarters Here.

Plans for the annual financial campaign to be held early in February, 1937, and the problem of caring for the transient men reaching Marion and the homeless single local men during the coming months were discussed at a meeting of the advisory board of the Salvation Army last night. The members together with Major and Mrs. Fred Malpass and Adjutant Paul O. Sailer of Cincinnati, were guests of Captain and Mrs. Rockwell Suckley, heads of the Salvation Army here, at a dinner in the recreational room at the hall on West Center street.

C. Z. Zachman, chairman of the board presided. Captain Suckley gave a report of his work here and spoke particularly of the problem of caring for transients which is becoming acute as the cooler weather advances, he explained.

The chairman appointed Harold Grimsby, Rex Robinson and Captain Suckley a committee to contact the city and county officials on a plan to take some definite action towards caring for the men.

Major Malpass, who is divisional commander of southwestern Ohio and northern Kentucky, which includes Marion, talked on the activities of the Salvation Army in its general work, and said that this organization, which was formed 71 years ago, was now working in more than 90 different countries and colonies. Captain Suckley's report included the activities of the local corps in which the young people's department is an outstanding feature. Mrs. Malpass gave a short talk, and Adjutant Sailer, special efforts director, gave an informal talk. Adjutant Sailer will be in charge of the financial campaign for the coming year.

LETTERS FROM TWO MISSIONARIES READ

Mrs. James Blankenship was in charge of a program hour and read a paper on the progress of missionary work in general. A meeting Nov. 12 will be at the home of Mrs. Inez Bastian on North State street.

Lowell Thomas' new political book

An Encyclopedia of Unbiased Political Information

EVERY VOTER SHOULD HAVE IT

Everybody is talking politics, but most of us are not sufficiently informed on the subject. Discussions can be made twice as interesting if you have actual facts about many angles of the political picture.

Can You Answer These Questions?

- Can a Presidential candidate get a majority of the popular vote and yet be defeated?
- How did the different states vote in past elections?
- Who becomes President if both President and Vice-President die or are removed from office?
- How many amendments have been made to the Constitution, and how many have been repealed?

The answers to these and many other puzzling questions are all in this new book by Lowell Thomas.

BY PRACTICES which have come down to us from ancestors, death has become associated in our minds with graveyards, unkempt and overgrown, with tombstones askew and weatherbeaten, the whole steeped in gloom and despair. Our dead have been placed in surroundings which prompted thoughts of nothing but death and its burdens of grief and sorrow. So, our cemeteries by tradition and legend have become cities of the dead, where only they, the dead, have found rest and peace and where the living have found only unrest and misery and have preferred to hasten away or pass by with eyes averted.

Glen Rest offers release from the bonds of the ageless grave-yard pall. It was built to serve the living as well as the dead. Here the gloom of the old style burial plot does not exist. There are no evidences of despair. Glen Rest is symbolic of Hope, of Faith, of Love. Its atmosphere inspires the conception of Life Everlasting. To our own generation goes the distinction of developing the modern memorial estate. It represents progress in the burial field that parallels the advances of industry and science.

Man's resourcefulness provides no finer or more respectful tribute to our beloved departed than is offered at Glen Rest. Burial in a garden glorious in the vibrant beauty of growing things is a fitting climax to busy, useful living. Adequate, permanent identification of graves by bronze tablets rather than unsightly stones is a practice in complete harmony with the modern philosophy of universal brotherhood. Perpetual Care, not only of the graves, but of the whole estate is assurance that never shall gloom or despair prevail in this God's Acre.

At Glen Rest Estate there are many services and features never found in yesterday's cemetery. A large fountain occupies an island in a lake and at night is clothed by a myriad of constantly changing colors. A luxurious Lounge is open daily to visitors; many go there to rest and meditate, seeking and finding consolation. A Chimes Tower, reminiscent in outline of the majestic American memorial at Bellau Wood, gives out the pleasing harmonies of a great organ. Wide, hard surface roads make all parts of the estate accessible to your conveyance.

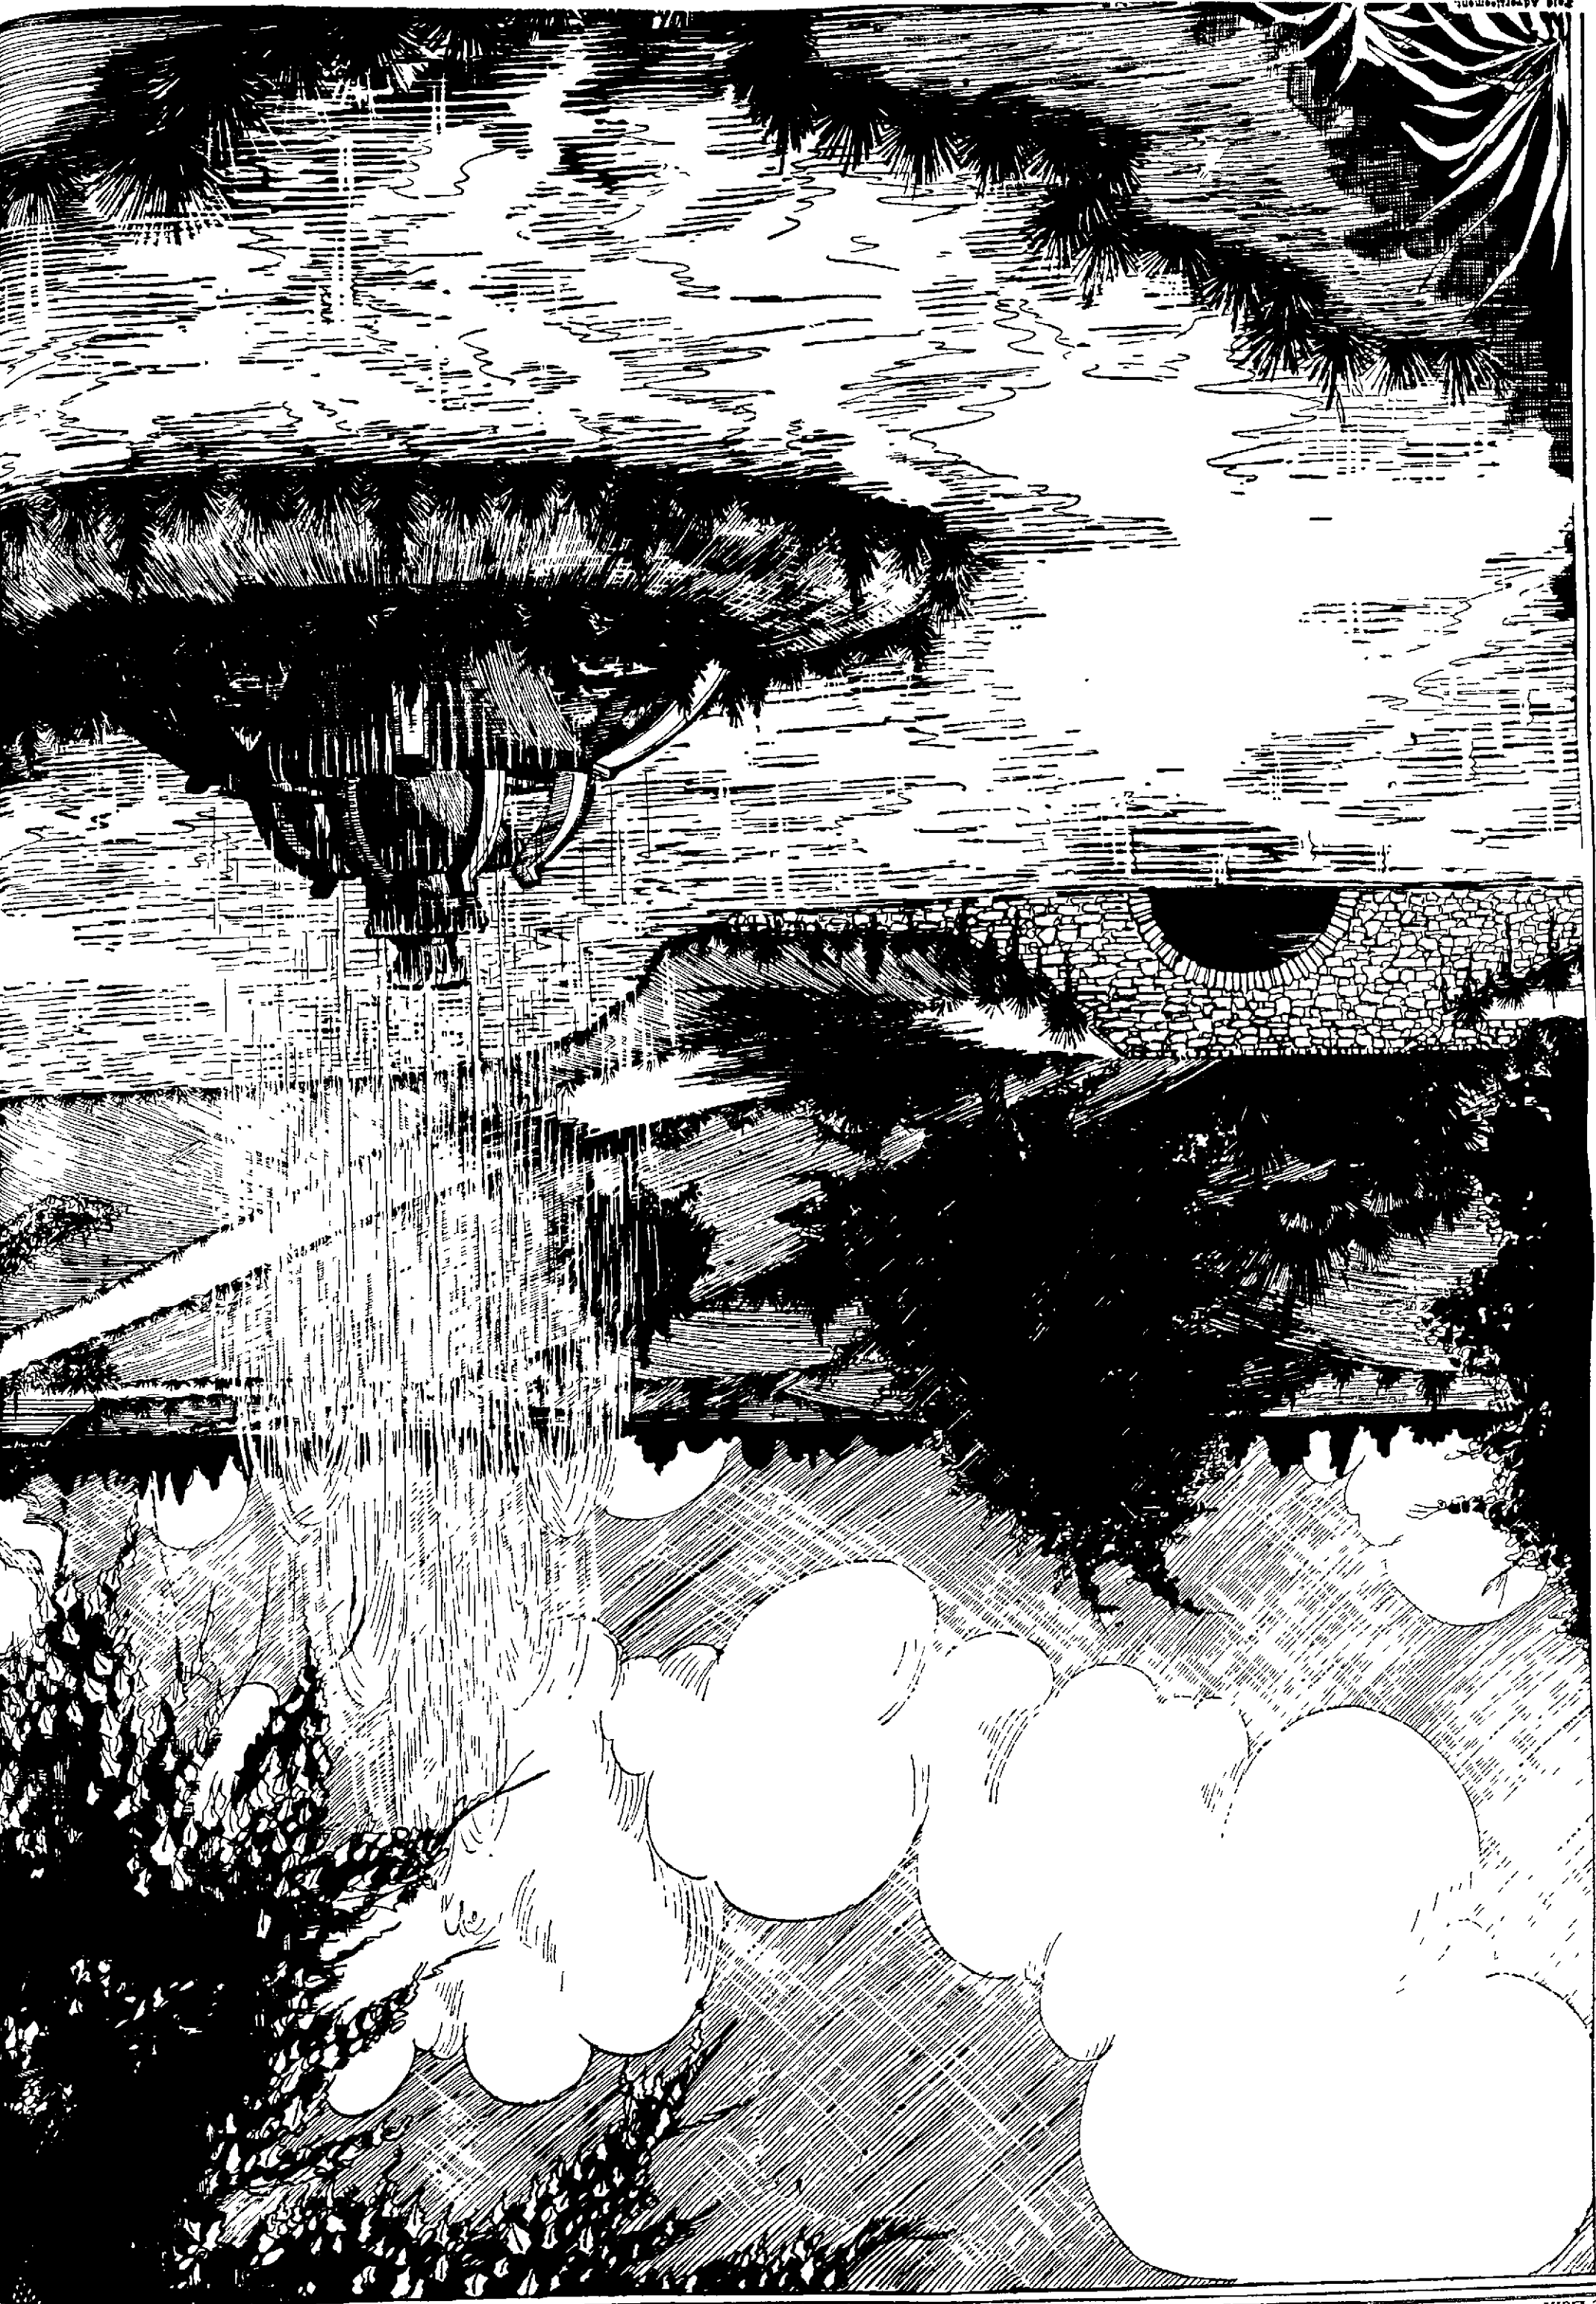

Sunday afternoon, Glen Rest will be dedicated. The full announcement of that service appears on this and the following pages. The builders of the estate cordially invite you to attend. With a great development record already made and the construction program virtually completed, Glen Rest on its dedication day will stand as Central Ohio's only completely modern memorial estate. The thousands who will attend the services will be inspired by the distinctive atmosphere and spirit that sets Glen Rest apart and above yesterday's cemetery, and has raised high our standard of care and respect for our beloved departed. We have also lowered prices and invite comparison.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

It is remembered that Allen Drake, who was supposed to be the ace of all code translators, had for that of women in general. Never had I known so heady a triumph as that which came to me when because of a knowledge of Sumerian hieroglyphics, gained from association with an old professor of languages I once had befriended, I had been able to translate a code badly wanted by my father, and which had baffled Allen Drake, who was supposed to be the ace of all code translators.

Generous in Tribute

He had been generous in his tribute upon that occasion, and there had been a subtle respect in his manner to me afterward which had gratified me out of all proportion to its cause.

For, though Dicky had never had the slightest reason for the jealousy of Allen Drake which he had sometimes betrayed to me when we were by ourselves, and though I acquitted myself of any romantic interest in the tall, handsome secret agent, I yet knew that there was no person in the world whom I would rather make acknowledge that I had a brain and could use it, even if I were a woman.

There had always been a subtle antagonism between us, and I did not wonder that I had felt it even beneath his disguise. It was flaring up now within me as I listened for his answer to Dicky's question.

"It's quite a long story," he said. "Of course, you must know that it was the chief's idea wholly."

and you also know that nobody disputes the chief when he gets an idea into his head.

"I wasn't particularly keen for the idea myself," he went on, "but I made no objection—as I'm sure no one of you would have done."

"You can be shouting sure," Harry Underwood boomed, and then Katie, who would interrupt the president or emperor if her culinary preparations were ready, riddled over from her corner.

"Dot supper, she all ready," she announced. "Me, I think ret get cold pretty soon if you no eat right away qweek."

She scuttled back to her improvised kitchenette again, and Allen Drake grinned lazily.

"Me, I second dot motion," he said under his breath.

Death Corteges Guarded As Hearse Drivers Strike

Despite the opposition of some members who held out for a delay until Monday, E. J. Coban, secretary of the union, today reported the strike was practically 100 per cent effective.

He said more than 200 funeral parlors and hearse garages in Manhattan and the Bronx were being picketed and that approximately 900 drivers had answered the strike call. About 40 members of the union, an affiliate of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, had refused to respond, he said.

Only those undertakers who operate their own hearses were affected, Coban explained, that a number of funeral directors hired their cars from agencies and they were not involved.

Because of holidays, the e was no picketing in the Jewish sections.

Commissioner Rice while expressing doubt the situation would become serious before several days had elapsed, said "measures will be taken" if a health menace arises.

"The police and health department will see to it that there are no violations of the penal law and the sanitary code," he said.

There are about 200 deaths a day in New York City. It is therefore obvious that there must not be any delays in burials.

Cohan predicted an early settlement of the strike.

Local Markets Display Plentiful Produce Supply

Marion and surrounding towns and villages are experiencing almost paradoxical fall seasons in regard to green market produce. Dealers here reported this week in spite of one of the most severe droughts in the history of the nation and continued hot spells this summer fresh produce is holding up better than it has for several years past, both as to quality and price. Usually at this time beans, lettuce, radishes, celery, carrots, beets and similar vegetables are practically out of the picture as far as Ohio grown produce is concerned, they said.

Supply Plentiful.
Most Marion dealers are entering a plentiful supply in the lake region but believe a severe frost would shut off the source about Sweet corn and peaches are entirely gone now they reported. New items on the local shelves this week include reported Illinois

Cancer of Skin

Cancer is a treacherous disease. Yet if it is attacked at the right age it is possible to destroy it. The ailment becomes incurable when it is neglected. Then the cancer cells spread from the original location to other and perhaps inaccessible parts of the body.

Of all the forms of cancer that involving the skin yields most readily to treatment. In fact, in almost every instance it is curable. Yet in spite of the curability canker if the skin continues to take a toll of deaths. Ignorance and neglect are responsible for this.

We can guard against cancer by paying attention to every disturbance of the body. We must disregard the warning signs no matter how trivial they may seem.

Rare in Youth

Everyone should be familiar with the danger of chronic irritations of the skin. This is especially true if the symptoms are observed by a parent in middle age. The ailment for cancer growth is more favorable in those beyond middle age. It may attack young adults but rarely.

If the skin is rough or irritated particularly if it is subject to constant friction from chafing daily shaving or by movements of the affected parts it is best to consult with a doctor. Any lump swelling unexplained irritation or steadily discomfort should arouse suspicion. It demands immediate medical investigation.

I have said this for a cancer responds to treatment. In fact when the true nature of the condition is recognized in its first

WHEAT NOW SHREDDED AND FLAVORED

Battle Creek Mch One of the most familiar and nourishing ready to eat cereals in whole wheat shredded in flake form.

In Kellogg's Whole Wheat Krumbles, however, entire wheat kernels are shredded by a different process in loose form. Then the natural flavor is improved in a most appetizing way by a blend of malt sugar and salt. Finally the flavored shreds are toasted to a rich, golden brown.

Kellogg's Whole Wheat Krumbles have a delicious goodness that no other ready to eat cereal has. Grocers everywhere report that the demand for it is growing.

Kellogg's Whole Wheat Krumbles are sold in a package with a Cellophane window that enables the customer to see the unusual shape of the whole wheat shreds.

We suggest you also try Kellogg's Shredded Whole Wheat Shredded with the natural wheat flavor.

CHAINING OF STEPSON PUTS OHIOAN IN JAIL

Foster Father Says He Tied Boy to Stove Because He Went for Piece of Pie.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
FINDLAY, O., Oct. 9.—Probate Judge Paul Capell jailed William P. Leath, 30, for investigation today after Leath's 10-year-old stepson, Robert, 10, testified today in a schoolroom with a 10-foot log chain padlocked around his neck.

The boy, Judge Capell said, was chained to the kitchen stove last night as punishment after he went into the kitchen to get a piece of pumpkin pie denied him at dinner.

His step-father, brought into court by Probate Officer Byron Gilbert, told the judge he chained Robert because the boy "ran away."

School officials testified county officials when the undernourished boy, weighing about 50 pounds, appeared with the heavy chain around his neck.

The boy's sister, Judge Capell said, had been given a key by Leath to "open the padlock if the teacher tries to get the chain off."

Leath at the county jail until another home could be found for him, the boy told Judge Capell that with one end of the chain fastened to the stove and the other around his neck he was able to sleep on a cot in the Leath kitchen. Leath told Judge Capell his stepson ran away and sometimes slept under a porch at their home. The chain, county officials said, had been used on the boy before.

Edison, Central Junior High Teams Play 7-7 Tie

400 WITNESS SECOND GAME IN NEW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE

Straus and Chiles Carry Ball for Only Touchdowns of Contest

Edison and Central Junior High school grid teams battled to a 7-7 tie yesterday afternoon at a Hardin stadium before a crowd of more than 400 enthusiastic fans. The game was the second of the new junior high school league, Edison having defeated Central Junior High 13-7 in the opener at the stadium on Wednesday.

A 40-yard run by McInnis and three passes by a first down gave the Green and White gridlers of Central an opportunity and they rushed in Straus Central fullback went over for the touchdown and in the fourth quarter added the extra point on a scrimmage play.

But Guests Didn't Come

Col. Jake Ruppert owner of the New York Yankees was host to his world champion baseball team at the Commodore Hotel in New York after the War I.

Edison's big line and fullback marched with the five yard line but failed to make a mark in the game and Central pointed out of immediate danger as the game ended.

Central kicked off to start the game and took possession of the ball near mid field on down the field advanced to the 15 yard line but was halted when Parr Tullison center intercepted a forward pass. The line and fullback marched through Central's line to the 30 yard line with a 30 yard gain in an end run to advance the ball to the 30 yard line.
